Sunday AM

Elder Charles Hoskins preached "Battle Cry" from James 4:7. We must stand and fight for our freedom! In Matthew 16:18, Jesus said that all the powers of hell would not be able to prevail against His church! Daniel 11:32 reveals that even during the time of trial in the end-time, "the people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits." Matthew 28:16-20 reveals that Jesus has all power (authority). Step up in holy boldness, and don't draw back! The Apostle Paul wrote that he came in the power and demonstration of the Spirit. There are battles ahead. We must prepare ourselves. If you don't endure a storm, you never know if you're on solid rock, and you never know victory. God will permit us to suffer pressure, opposition. Only in such times can we become strong in God. He is our shelter, protector, covering, provider, defender, resting place, helper, security.... He is our solid rock! He gives us victory over the enemy!

Sunday PM

Pastor Joseph preached "Lord of What's Left Over" from II Kings 4:42-44. Elisha's prophetic calling came during a time of war. Israel was at war with Syria, and this caused scarcity, hunger, and fear. His ministry goal was to encourage the people to trust in God! Pastor Joseph underscored three main points. First, blessing that results from good stewardship is not always for you. It could be for someone who is worse off than you. In the text, a farmer tithed on the first fruits. Elisha received the tithing, but he did not keep it for himself. He instructed it to go for the needy. Thus the good stewardship of both the farmer and the prophet provided food for hungry souls. Importantly, it was enough only because God multiplied it. Our "little bit" can be bigger than we realized. Second, never underestimate God's abundance in scarcity! Don't stress yourself trying to figure out how God is going to do it. Have faith! Third, thank God for the left overs. Don't focus on what you lost. Focus on what remains. God can stretch that until all are fed and filled, and He leaves leftovers!

Wednesday

Pastor Joseph taught "Past The Hurt" from Job, Matthew & Luke. Forgiveness is one of the most important topics in the Bible. Though somewhat complicated, it is worthy of study to properly sort it out. On one hand, the scripture indicates we must forgive men their trespasses against us (with no mention of repentance). Elsewhere we're told to insist that our brother repent to us before he can receive forgiveness. The two stances seem to contradict each other. Do they? Actually, the reason for two policies is because one is for wounding between brothers in Christ and the other is for unbelievers. Whenever we have a relationship with God and each other, there is supposed to be accountability. Only through repentance can one obtain forgiveness. According to Jesus (in Matthew 18), if a brother refuses to repent (even after being approached privately, semi-privately, and before the whole church) then he is to no longer be regarded as a brother. This means that, in the end, you finally extend forgiveness, but not as unto a brother. So forgiveness for all is the rule, but there are some conditions first if the trespasser is a brother.

A man walked into a gift shop that sold religious items. Near the cash register he saw a display of baseball caps with “WWJD” printed on all of them. He was puzzled over what the letters could mean, but couldn’t figure it out, so he asked the clerk. The clerk replied that the letters stood for “What Would Jesus Do?”—meant to inspire people to not make rash decisions, but rather to imagine what Jesus would do in the same situation. The man thought a moment and then replied, “Well, I’m sure Jesus wouldn’t pay $17.95 for one of these caps.”
