

West Virginia's Unborn Babies are in the Governor's Hands

A pro-life bulletin insert for churches across West Virginia

"...Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me." -- Matthew 25:40

Governor Tomblin's signature is the last step in making West Virginia the 11th state to protect unborn babies who can feel pain!

The Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act (HB 4588) passed in the West Virginia Senate by a vote of 29-5. The House concurred 83-15.

The Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act will protect West Virginia's unborn babies who can feel pain from being aborted, by asserting a compelling state interest in their lives.

Substantial scientific research demonstrates that unborn babies can feel pain beginning by at least 20 weeks after conception. West Virginia can now join the many other states which legally protect pain-capable unborn babies.

Governor Tomblin just needs to sign the bill into law, but he needs to hear from pro-life West Virginians like you!

Call Governor Tomblin at 304-558-2000

Ask him to:

Protect innocent unborn babies by signing the Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act (HB 4588) into law.
